

THE DIRT!

SOILBIOTICS COMPANY E-NEWSLETTER

Winter #2 2017

Organic 1r Seed Treatment now COR Listed

SoilBiotics has received organic certification for its Organic 1r - Seed Treatment from the Canadian Organic Regime (COR, via the Canadian Organic Office). Organic 1r - Seed Treatment is also certified by the Organic Materials Review Institute (OMRI), the United States Department of Agriculture's National Organic Program (NOP), and the California Department of Food & Agriculture (CDFA).

SoilBiotics Combines Product Under One Name

To reduce the potential for marketplace confusion, the product originally marketed under the names 2 – Soil Boost and Organic 2r – Soil Boost have been combined under one name as Organic 2r – Soil Boost. The products were chemically identical, but some customers wondered if there were differences and it was decided that only one name was needed to avoid misunderstanding.

Row-Crop Trial Results Now Coming In

We have conducted a variety of field tests each year and, as part of our ongoing educational efforts, have posted those results under the PRODUCTS tab on our website in the "Trials and Results" section. Now that the 2016 row-crop harvest has been completed and results tabulated, we are starting to post results for those repeating trials. Results for some other crops and produce have already been posted. Please visit our website often in the coming months to see our new trial results.
